

上海大学
国际交流学院
中国上海市
延长路149号
邮编: 200072

College of International Exchange
Shanghai University
149 Yanchang Road.
Shanghai 200072, P.R.China
TEL:+86-21-56331820
FAX:+86-21-56333187
E-mail:cie@mail.shu.edu.cn
Http://www.cie.shu.edu.cn

ASIA EXCHANGE'S PARTNERSHIP WITH SHANGHAI UNIVERSITY

11-Nov-16

Shanghai University in Shanghai, China, and Asia Exchange, a Finnish study abroad organization, begun their official partnership in 2014. All students who wish to study at Shanghai University as exchange students for one or two semesters can apply via Asia Exchange.

Asia Exchange is a professional and reliable organization which has a great capacity to handle the entire admission process. The application process is quick and easy, and students receive the initial acceptance letter within a week. Asia Exchange helps students with a number of practical matters from housing to visas, and sends the students all official documents from their chosen host university, including transcripts of records at the end of the semester. Shanghai University and students' home universities save costs, time and resources by working together with Asia Exchange. Shanghai University and Asia Exchange have a close and personal working relationship and the program benefits from being annually reviewed and developed based on students' and home institutions' feedback.

The China Studies program at Shanghai University is a well-tailored, multi-disciplinary program focused on all specific areas relevant to China. With relevant theories and up-to-date practical applications, the program aims to equip students with comprehensive perspective on China, systematic knowledge of business practices and the ability to analyze changes in government policies and regulations that affect business operations in China. The program is offered by the School of Economics, School of Management, School of Foreign Languages, School of Computer Engineering and Science and College of International Exchange at Shanghai University. It covers the economic, social, legal, cultural, political, financial, scientific, technological and management aspects of China. The curriculum includes Chinese language study for international students and Chinese culture and cross-cultural study for all students.

On top of that, students will acquire valuable insights of the region's business environment and practices through a customized selection of company visits. Shanghai University's company partners include such renowned global players as Fortune Global 500 and China's most competitive iron and steel enterprise, Baosteel Group Corporation; Coca Cola, global leader in the fast-moving consumer goods industry; Volkswagen Group China, the largest, earliest, and the most successful joint venture in China's automotive industry and a local company.

The program consists of 10 courses, out of which students choose 4 to 6 courses. All courses are worth 5 ECTS. The program lasts 13 weeks. An orientation day takes place before the semester begins. A full list of courses and course syllabus can be found on Asia Exchange website.

