ACHIEVING PERSONAL AND PROFESSIONAL SUCCESS

Graduate Course

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course introduces the tools and techniques for defining and achieving success in your personal and professional life. You'll hear true stories about finding your passion and core values, applying these values to your own life, working well with others, communicating effectively, setting goals and using influence to achieve these goals. You'll also learn how to manage your time efficiently, the importance of work-life balance and why taking care of your mental and physical wellbeing can have a huge effect on your professional success.

OBJECTIVES

By the end of this course, students should be able to:

- Know what drives them and how to utilize that in life and work.
- Create the perfect work-life balance.
- Identify specific time management tools for personal and professional productivity.
- Set goals and use influence to achieve them.
- Communicate effectively online and in real life.

LECTURING METHOD

The course will use lectures, exercises, self-diagnostic surveys and case studies to help you discover not only what you want but also how to get it. At the end of the course students will create a personal success plan. To fulfil the graduate level course requirements, an added research component is to be conducted through an assignment or a field study.

ACADEMIC RESEARCH

This course includes an academic research paper which must be completed during your semester. It will be based on a topic given by the lecturer and require comprehensive research by the student. This paper will consist of an methodological analysis of the latest literature and be handed in at the end of the semester. The academic research will be included in the final course grade.
