COURSE

DESCRIPTION

This course is designed to give you the terminology, concepts and frameworks necessary to understand businesses in a changing world, to unpack their constituent parts, and to build your own toolkit for strategy and decision-making. This course introduces basic concepts and frameworks that can be applied across markets, at all levels of business. Core value propositions, pitches and hacks, social media skills, competition and macro environmental tools are all discussed during the course through real-life stories and experiences.

OBJECTIVES

By the end of this course students should know:

- How to break a company down to its main components and activities.
- What are the current industry trends.
- The basics of industry competitive dynamics.
- How different business functions work and integrate.

LECTURING

METHOD

The course will be presented in the form of lecture activities, classroom assignments and discussions, case studies, special topic presentation, and homework. Students will be working primarily on the basis of real-life stories, though additional materials can be assigned from time to time. In order to understand the topics covered in this course it is crucial that students read the supplied online material before class sessions to be able to contribute thoughtfully to the class discussions and exercises.
